Gentlemen:-

I have in my possession a Roman gold coin about the size of our five dollar piece. It was coined during Emperor Valerian's reign (?-260). This coin was unearthed in Risan, Dalmatia, by my late husband's family.

Can you tell me where I would be likely to find a buyer, and also, in your opinion, what a relic of this character might be worth.

I thank you for your trouble in reading this and I hope you will be kind enough to reply.

Very truly yours,
Darinka Radovich

Dear Madam:

Your letter of February 12th is at hand. If the coin which you describe is in fine condition and you are willing to send it by registered mail with postage for its return in the event that we do not make an offer for it, we shall be glad to see the piece. It is impossible to make an offer without seeing such a coin.

Very truly yours,

Secretary.
